SKINCARE FOR THE SELF-OBSESSED

— Clinic-level results, in a daily routine.

MOODLABS CO., LTD. · BRAND & PRODUCT DECK · 2026

The ground has shifted.

Aesthetic procedures are now routine.

Fillers, skin boosters, glass skin — no longer occasional events, but the everyday standard. The line between skincare and makeup has collapsed, and consumers keep only the products that improve skin while they wear them.

$11.4B Annual K-beauty exports — world's No.2 exporter	No.1 K-beauty: the No.1 cosmetics import in the U.S.	6.6% Hybrid skincare-makeup category CAGR
65% of makeup buyers consider skin health before purchase	+79% Growth in demand for peptide ingredients	GLOW IS THE NEW NORMAL

More procedures. More fragile skin.

The more routine procedures become, the wider the everyday gaps they leave behind — and those gaps are now the fastest-growing space in global beauty.

GAP 01 — LIPS

Filler: needles, swelling, fading

The look is coveted; the needle, downtime and upkeep are the barrier. A daily volume-care alternative is missing.

GAP 02 — UV SHIELD WITH COVERAGE

Nothing to wear the morning after

The day after lasers and boosters — and on stress-breakout days. No sun care on the market calms and covers gently enough.

→ POST-PROCEDURE & ACNE-PRONE CARE

GAP 03 — HOME LIFTING

Masks that lift at home are rare

Glass-skin and tightening procedures are surging, yet home masks that can clinically speak to lifting are scarce.

GLOBAL SENSITIVE-SKIN CARE MARKET

Self-reported sensitive skin keeps rising worldwide (academic literature). More procedures mean more reactive skin — and rising demand for products that are gentle yet effective.

"Clinic-level results, in a daily routine."

MOISÉ is not another cosmetic — it is skincare-grade makeup that turns procedure trends into an everyday routine.

WHY 01 Better with every wear

Clinically anchored, cumulative improvement. Customers who see results come back.

REPEAT PURCHASE ↑

WHY 02 Skincare × makeup × sun care hybrid

One product replaces three categories — justifying a higher ticket.

"Glass skin used to live at the clinic.
Now it lives on your vanity."

Products sell for a reason.

MOISĒ doesn't build on instinct. We build with consumers, refine until the science says yes, and make people love their features instead of hiding them.

DIFFERENCE 01

Built with consumers

From concept surveys to review-driven updates, customer voices are built into the product and its page. Demand is validated before production.

DIFFERENCE 02

Until the science says yes

Every launch survives a 200+ consumer panel — resampled until it scores 4.5/5 — and is benchmarked against the best competing products in the world. Clinical validation comes standard.

200+ 4.5/5 BEST-IN-CLASS

DIFFERENCE 03

Not concealment — self-love

Not makeup that buries flaws, but a journey of loving what's yours while improving it. A brand that raises self-esteem gets chosen without discounts.

BE YOUR OWN FAVORITE
the self-love code that lowers price resistance

"I was born to shine."

The sentence every MOISË product is built on.

NAME	MOISË — a name born from the French Mademoiselle . The woman who shines without proving perfection — in love with her own life, wearing even her flaws as her signature.
PHILOSOPHY	MoodLabs believes: mood shapes thought, thought shapes words and actions, and they shape a life. A good mood is not a luxury — it is life's design tool.
PERSONA	People with healthy self-love — who groom by their own standards, and treat flaws as something to improve, not to hide.
PROMISE	Be Your Own Favorite. Our one promise: that you become your own favorite — and we walk that journey with you, one daily ritual at a time.

Why MOISĒ keeps getting called back.
